

Meeting Is Forced

House Rules Group Clears Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Rules Committee today voted 10-2 to clear the long-blocked civil rights bill for House action.

The committee vote overrode Chairman Howard W. Smith (D-Va.) and Rep. Colmer (D-Miss.) last ditch opponents of the compromise measure, and paved the way for House action expected tomorrow.

Speedy House passage is expected for the measure which had been bottled up in the Rules Committee since Senate passage Aug. 7.

The meeting of the Rules Committee was forced by seven members because Chairman Smith had refused to call a session of the committee.

Under House rules, a majority of a committee can force a meeting when the chairman does not call one.

Rep. High Scott (R-Pa.) signed at 9:30 a.m. a call for a meeting previously signed by six Democrats.

A proposed compromise bill was worked out last week by Democratic and Republican congressional leaders. It would give federal judges limited powers to punish for criminal contempt in voting rights cases tried without a jury.

Once a meeting is held, the Rules Committee is expected to write the compromise into the bill before sending it to the House for action, probably tomorrow.

Then the Senate will act. Southern senators apparently have no intention of staging a filibuster, but plan to voice again their objections to the legislation.

It was not certain how much time these speeches will require, but the leadership goal is adjournment of Congress by this weekend.

In its final form the bill is expected to contain:

1. Provision for a bipartisan civil rights investigating commission and for a special section of the Justice Department to handle civil rights matters.

2. New powers for the attorney general to seek U.S. court injunctions against violations or threatened violations of voting rights.

3. A special provision—the heart of the final compromise—that a judge shall decide whether a person charged with criminal contempt for violating an injunction shall be tried by himself, or by a jury.

If the judge tries the case himself and levies a penalty of more than 45 days in jail and a $300 fine, the defendant would have the right to a new trial before a jury. The maximum penalty for such injunction violations would be six months in jail and $1,000 fine.

Skies Partly Cloudy; See Rain for Tonight

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Skies were partly cloudy over Missouri today with afternoon temperatures expected in the 90s but a prospect of scattered showers was held out for tonight.

Highs yesterday ranged from 94 at Joplin and Kansas City to 81 at Malden with most of the other maximums ranging in the upper 80s. There was no recorded precipitation overnight.

Today's forecast calls for showers or thunderstorms in the north and west central sections late this afternoon or evening, and considerable cloudiness tonight and Tuesday.

Increasing showers and thunder storms are predicted for tomorrow over most of the state, and cooling off tonight.

Teamster Bosses In Meeting

Map Defense Against Corruption Charges, Expulsion by AFL-CIO

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Top leaders of the Teamsters Union go into a secret session here today to map out a defense against charges of corruption and the possibility of the brotherhood's expulsion from the AFL-CIO.

Also expected to be assessed during the union's Executive Board meetings are James R. Hoffa's chances of attaining the presidency of the 1,400,000-member organization.

The closed conference in a hotel suite may last three days or longer.

President Dave Beck, after lengthy investigation by the Senate Rackets Committee, announced he would not seek reelection.

Hoffa late last week finished a four-day period of questioning by the same committee, whose members accused him of misusing union funds and of allying himself with gangsters and hoodlums to enhance his own union power. He faces more questioning later.

Most local Teamsters' officials said they felt the Executive Board would determine whether Hoffa's investigation by the Senate committee would impede his chances of advancing from a vice presidency to the brotherhood's top spot.

Hoffa appeared jovial and unperturbed on his arrival yesterday. He scoffed at a suggestion that he might bow out of the race for president.

"I will be a candidate," he declared. "Members will make their own decision."

Beck's successor is to be named at the Teamsters' convention starting Sept. 30 in Miami Beach, Fla.

Hoffa, who was castigated by Senate investigators about the vagueness of his answers regarding his past associations with New York labor terrorist Johnny Dio, defended his position by asking a newsmen: "Can you remember everything you did three years ago?"

Beck answered with "No comment" a barrage of questions from newsmen on his choice for a successor.

The memorial services will be held Sept. 14 in the Town House Hotel.

All-Time High Attendance Record Set For Missouri Fair

Several Records Broken During 55th Exposition

Sunday night ended nine days of success for M. C. "Colie" Ervin, secretary of the Missouri State Fair, and Commissioner of Agriculture John Sam Williamson. They saw the Missouri State Fair's 55th Annual Exposition close with several records broken, and the main record was that of attendance which went to 543,708, a new all-time high. The old record was set in 1955 when the attendance soared to 542,175.

Nancy Jane missing three front teeth, was one of the hundreds of visitors to the state's garden clubs show. She is 6-years-old and the daughter of Chaplin and Mrs. Thomas M. Campbell, Jr., of Whiteman Air Force Base at Knobnoster.

Broadway's Improvement Is Tentative

State Commission Releases Plans; Bids Open Nov. 1

Plans for the proposed urban improvement on Broadway are still rather tentative. Questions have arisen regarding the beginning and the style of the program.

In response to this, the Missouri State Highway Commission has released the following information.

Tentative plans now are to include the U.S. Route 50 (Broadway) urban improvement project in Sedalia in a Nov. 1 bid call by the State Highway Commission. M. J. Snider, district engineer at the Commission's District 4 office in Kansas City, has reported that design plans for the project should be ready by that date.

If bids are received at that time they will be submitted to the Commission at its December meeting for approval of a contract award. It then probably would be about 30 days later before a notice to proceed on the project would go to the contractor. It requires about that much time to have the contractor sign the contract and complete other preliminaries.

The Broadway improvement will extend between Limit Street and New York Avenue, for an approximate length of two miles. It will include a 64-foot wide high type pavement, except between Kentucky and Massachusetts, where a median strip will be put in to provide for protected left hand turns at Ohio Street. This will eliminate parking at this point.

Training Plane Crashes; One Person Killed

PITTSBURGH (AP)—An Air Force training plane, crashed into the small mining community of Clinton five miles west of Greater Pittsburgh Airport today, setting fire to two houses.

First reports from the scene were that the plane which crashed was a jet. However the Civil Aeronautics Administration office at the airport said the plane was a propeller-driven T28 en route from Pittsburgh to Youngstown, Ohio.

Occupants of the homes apparently escaped injury.

The burned body of a man, apparently the pilot of the plane, was found at the scene.

There was no immediate information whether more than one person was aboard the plane.

Jerry McLaughlin, a resident of Clinton, said, "The plane was right over my head. It was very quiet, as if its motor was off."

Kansas City Power Firm Has Strike

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Approximately 2,000 union employees of the Kansas City Power & Light Co. went on strike at the utility's facilities here and at Brunswick and Sweet Springs, in Missouri, and Paola, Kan., today.

Pickets were posted by three locals of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, bargaining representative for K.C.P. & L., clerical employees, linemen and power plant production workers.

In Jefferson City, acting Gov. Edward V. Long said the state was set for immediate state seizure and operation of the utility under the utility antistrike act but only if he finds it "necessary to protect the public health and welfare."

Gov. Long, acting in the absence of vacationing Governor James T. Blair, said the proper legal papers are already signed by him and in Kansas City—ready to be served on both sides in the dispute if the situation requires.

"All I have to do is call and tell them to serve the papers," Long said in a special press conference.

Under the 10-year-old Missouri law, if the state takes over a utility the striking workers must go back to work or lose their job seniority. Their union and job leaders are subject to heavy fines.

Average of $1,940

Personal Income for 1956 Hits Record High in Nation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Personal income in the United States last year reached a record 324 billion dollars. This was an average of $1,940 for every man, woman and child in the country—before taxes, that is.

The figures came out today in a Census Bureau report that showed, among other things: Delaware's $2,858 was the highest per capita income in the country, 38 per cent above the national average. Mississippi was low with $964, less than half the average.

Indiana hit the average almost on the nose with per capita income of $1,946.

Fifteen states and the District of Columbia were above the average; 33 states and Hawaii were below.

The reports covered all sources of personal income, including wages and salaries, net income of unincorporated enterprises (including farms), net rental income, dividends, interest and such items as social security benefits, direct relief and veterans' pensions and benefits.

The 1956 total income of 324 billion dollars was 7 per cent higher than the 303 billion of 1955. The per capita income of $1,940 was 5 per cent higher than the $1,847 of 1955. (Separate reports indicate that per capita income this year is running over $2,000 a year.)

Connecticut followed Delaware in per capita income with $2,673. Then came New Jersey, $2,443; California, $2,393; Nevada, $2,413; New York, $2,393; Illinois $2,383 and the District of Columbia, $2,371.

Nevada was the only state to show a decline in per capita income—from $2,451 to $2,413. That dropped Nevada from third in 1955, behind Delaware and Connecticut to fifth in 1956.

Delaware also showed a 14 per cent increase, largest in the country, in total income from 1955 to 1956. Arizona was up 12 per cent and Florida 11 per cent. The government report said these three states showed sizable advances in all major income sources.

An upturn in the coal-mining industry helped boost West Virginia's total income by 11 per cent last year. Louisiana rose 10 per cent over the year, mostly from nonagricultural sources.

The report showed the average income level of the Far West is the highest in the country and about 20 per cent above the national average. The Great Lakes states were about 10 per cent higher than the average. Most of the rest of the country was below average.

Sunday's closing day saw the highest attendance for that comparative day when the count reached 65,778 as compared to 64,632 in 1956, the previous high. The grandstand, bleachers and infield crowd on hand to see the 100-mile stock car races totaling 20,593, another record breaker, and highest in the past 20 years of record keeping.

Gov. Edward V. Long, acting governor in the absence of Gov. James T. Blair, Jr., set another record, that of being the first governor or acting governor to be in attendance at the Missouri Fair every day. He visited everything, and his previous experience as a member of the Pike County Fair Board, of which he served as secretary for several years, was a big help.

The livestock entry record was smashed, too. There were exactly 2,800 head of livestock on the grounds for 1957, as compared with the previous high in 1956, when the count was 2,778 head.

Another record was made when rain caused postponement of the Grand Circuit races two days in a row, which even compared with the cyclone which hit the fair in 1952, when the fair lost but one day of operation. In spite of those two rainy days, near record crowds went to the fair anyway.

The horse show set a record of being attended by nearly a full Coliseum each of the six days. The show was consistent in its attendance this year instead of waiting for the final Stake Night as in the past.

Secretary Ervin called attention to one of the outstanding features on the grounds which paid off to exhibitors. For the first time in the history of the fair, milk didn't go down the drain. The new milking parlor which was constructed this year proved profitable to the herdsman as well as educational to the public.

Cows were milked in the parlor behind large plate glasses so the public could see for themselves the procedure which helps to make milk Grade A. Instead of the herdsman milking their cows and then pouring the milk down the sewer as in the past, the cows were used for the exhibition, the milk then was sold to the Tullis-Hall Dairy in Sedalia—Grade A milk, too. Money obtained from the selling of the milk was distributed to the herdsman—which made them very happy.

According to the report, Tullis-Hall Dairy purchased 8,199 pounds of this milk.

The Air Force exhibit also made a record when more than 10,000 fairgoers passed through the exhibit. The exhibit was sponsored by Whiteman Air Force Base and proved interesting to not only the children but also, and especially, to the adults and those parents who have sons in the Air Force.

Among the dignitaries who visited this exhibit were Lt. Gov. Long, Pinky Lee, television star of a children's program, Sally Rand, internationally famous show personality, and Brenda Lee, star of radio, television and recordings.

The fair ended with the Grand Ole Opry in front of the grandstand with a full attendance, and the Saddle Club show at the Coliseum. The Cettin-Wilson show on the midway was the final closing attraction and it began "tearing down" shortly after midnight after a week of good business.

Secretary Ervin and Commissioner Williamson were both extremely pleased with their first fair and extended their thanks for the excellent cooperation the fair enjoyed between exhibitors, concessioners, and entertainers with the fair officials.

A Misunderstanding

DETROIT (AP)—Eddie Dickerson, 41, finally has his stolen car back, but he traveled a bit to get it.

Police called Dickerson and told him they found the car parked on Scotten Avenue near Toledo Street in Detroit. Dickerson thanked them and said he would pick it up.

A few hours later, police got a long distance call from Dickerson.

"Listen," he said, "I'm in Toledo, Ohio, and I can't even find Scotten."

Wants Reciprocal Action

Plans for Newsmen to Make Red China Trip at Stalemate

HONG KONG (AP)—Plans to send American newsmen into Communist China appeared stalemated today by a Peiping demand for reciprocal U.S. admission of Red Chinese reporters. The State Department promptly rejected the Communist demand.

Radio Peiping announced last night that the State Department's decision to allow 24 U.S. reporters to work in Red China for six months "is completely unacceptable to the Chinese people."

The Chinese government "expects Chinese correspondents to be given reciprocal treatment to go to America to report," the broadcast commentary from the official Peiping People's Daily said.

Secretary of State Dulles' announcement in Washington Thursday permitting American newsmen in Communist China for the first time in eight years said the United States "will not accord reciprocal visas to Chinese bearing passports issued by the Chinese Communist regime."

The broadcast said the State Department is trying to "send people into our country to search out opportunities to create trouble. . . . The wrecking activities of the U.S. government will come to nothing and will never be tolerated by the people of China."

Eleven of the 24 Americans were waiting here for answers to visa applications. The Peiping broadcast did not say specifically no visas would be issued until the State Department changed its stand, but that appeared to be its implication.

A full text of the Peiping commentary was read by what veteran radio monitors said was obviously a young American's voice. Forty-one American youths are now in Red China as guests of the government, and 12 American Korean war turncoats also are still on the mainland.

Detroit Papers Settle Dispute; Resume Deadline

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit's three major daily newspapers were back on regular deadline schedules today after settlement of a labor dispute which suspended publication most of last week.

The afternoon Detroit News and Times reported everything normal today as the usual number of pages were planned. The evening Free Press came out on schedule.

The papers all published Sunday editions, although they were thinner than usual and newboys were a little late with editions.

The News and Times both published Saturday after settlement of the dispute shortly after midnight Friday. The Free Press joined them publishing a Sunday edition.

The dispute, between mailers and publishers, ended shortly after Midwest Teamsters boss James R. Hoffa intervened in what was described as a major role in the settlement.

The dispute arose from refusal of mailers to work beyond a 15-hour double shift at the News Aug. 17. The News said it fired 67 mailers and mailers picket lines were thrown up at the News. Teamsters members then refused to cross picket lines to deliver papers and the News suspended publication.

Evolution Of Common Man

The Rooseveltian slogan about the common man getting such a raw deal was a popular one over two decades ago. So the common man became the administration's darling. The philosophy of life which made him so, is still recognized by generations which have grown up in the shade of bureaucratic umbrellas.

Deifying the common man has not been strictly an objective of the Democratic party either; the Republicans soon discovered that adherence to such a philosophy was a vote getter.

Every now and then someone bobs up who is not beguiled by the curious philosophy, and flings out against it. Such a one is Editor John Fischer of Harper's Magazine who says:

"Our whole way of life is now based on the theory that only the mediocre and ineffectual deserve to be especially cherished by society. . . .

"So if a man is stupid, lazy and feckless enough, there is nothing our society won't do for him — particularly if he comes from a long line of stupid, lazy feckless ancestors. When he has a job, the union sees to it that he is never fired for anything short of the most outrageous sloppiness and shirking.

When he doesn't, a relief check is always waiting. If he absent-mindedly begets more children than he can support, the state takes care of them. For good measure, we ply him with subsidized housing, free medical care, and the tender ministrations of social workers; and we entertain him lavishly with free television programs carefully tailored to his sluggish wits.

"His children become the darlings of the public schools, which are primarily designed to keep mediocre youngsters (and their parents) happy. Here little Willie Jukes is taught 'life adjustment,' including how to dance, play the clarinet and drive a hot-rod—but rarely does any teacher insist that he learn to read and spell properly, because the effort might bruise his fragile soul."

This observation of Mr. Fischer's will make many people angry; perhaps for no other reason than the sad and ominous one — what he says is so largely and increasingly true, except that he's outrageously over-critical in making that crack about the union, which just isn't so out here in the mid-west.

What do you think? We ought to get some letters on this one.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Gambler Helped Hoffa Get Attorney

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — A further link between the Teamster empire of Jimmy Hoffa and the empire of the underworld was revealed in the manner in which Hoffa reached down into Hot Springs, Ark., to hire an obscure Arkansas State Senator as one of his attorneys.

This column has already revealed how A. D. Shelton, brother of the judge who presided over the Hoffa trial in Washington, discussed the Hoffa case with Arkansas State Senator Q. Byrum Hurst, and how Shelton came to Washington in advance of the Hoffa trial where he talked to his sister, Judge Burnita Shelton Matthews.

However, here is more information on how the Hoffa defense happened to go all the way to Arkansas, home state of Sen. John McClellan, for an attorney.

The man who arranged for the retention of Hurst was Ralph Pierce, a Chicago gambler who also lives part of the time in Hot Springs.

Pierce is referred to in the Kefauver crime hearings as a member of the Capone Syndicate and owner of the Silver Bar at 400 South La Salle Street in Chicago, also an associate of Paul "The Waiter" Riccio. It has now been disclosed by the Senate Rackets Committee that Hoffa's midwest teamsters spent $150,000 of union funds to buy the Lake Michigan mansion of gangster Riccio.

To get more details on how an Arkansas State Senator was pulled into the Hoffa trial, I phoned Senator Hurst in Hot Springs and asked him about the circumstances under which he had been retained.

Q. Byrum Hurst's Story

"I have always been a great friend of labor," he replied. "I have known Odell Smith of the Arkansas Teamsters, and once represented the International Woodworkers."

"Isn't it a fact that Ralph Pierce arranged for you to represent Hoffa?" I asked.

"Where did you hear that?" Senator Hurst blurted. He said he knew Pierce, but declined to elaborate on his relationship further.

"How much were you paid for your legal services in Washington?" I asked.

"Nothing, not a cent. I'm sending George Fitzgerald (Hoffa's Michigan counsel) a bill for my expenses — about $2,500. But I don't know that I'll charge anything at all.

"I was happy to come to Washington," the affable Arkansas State Senator continued. "I came up there frequently, have to try cases in Washington from time to time."

"What kind of cases?"

"I just had two divorce cases there last winter."

"Just what did you do for Mr. Hoffa at the trial?" I asked. "What did you do other than have the judge's brother come to Washington to talk to the judge?"

"You got me wrong on that," Senator Hurst replied. "That wasn't why I was retained."

"Then what did you do at the trial?"

"I sat there and listened, and when I thought of a question that ought to be asked, I wrote it down on a little piece of paper."

Guest Editorial—

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR: The Deer With The Red Sweater. Somewhere in the woods near Manistee, Michigan, is a deer wearing a red sweater. The sweater does not indicate that the deer is a former Ivy League halfback, but rather that it has four young human friends who raised it from a fawn.

When the Michigan hunting season approached, the youngsters began to be concerned for the deer's safety. Michigan laws do not permit a deer to be penned up. Hence the expedient which at longer range might suggest another hunting jacket in the woods or, seen more closely, would indicate that the animal must be somebody's pet.

This kind of protective coloration evidently worked — apparently better than for some hunters; for the year's hunting season now is over and the red-sweatered deer has since been seen several times.

If word of this gets around to some of the deer's wilder cronies they may turn up at the nearest farmhouse next season for outfitting. After all, a sweater for a deer in the winter woods makes more sense than for a Chihuahua dog on Park Avenue.

Clemson Foregoes Cash

It's suspected that some Southern Colleges didn't read the fine print in a contract with the government involving segregation and may decide to return several million dollars being advanced them on "educational" contracts by the Atomic Energy Commission.

One college, Clemson in South Carolina, has already returned a $99,050 contract to Washington rather than comply with federal integration requirements.

What happened was that the AEC is giving federal funds to various universities in order to promote atomic education. The United States has been falling behind Russia in the race to develop atomic scientists; so the AEC is helping colleges buy atomic reactors and laboratory equipment, and is also granting fellowships and endowments totalling $8,000,000.

Stipulated in the government contract, however, is the proviso that "no person shall be barred from participation or be the subject of other unfavorable discrimination on the basis of race, creed, color, or religion."

At least 10 southern colleges have signed up and are receiving atomic energy aid. Only one of them, Clemson, has returned its grant so far.

Those which have agreed to go along with the anti-segregation clause and are getting AEC help include:

North Carolina State University (receiving $202,000); Miami University ($5,800); Virginia Polytechnic Institute ($159,700); University of Florida ($225,550); Georgia Tech ($34,000); University of Texas ($74,500); Texas A & M ($158,000); Rice Institute ($121,350); University of Tennessee ($97,350); and Alabama Poly ($74,800).

Wisconsin's Primary

The triumph of former Gov. Walter Kohler in the Republican senatorial primary in Wisconsin is of somewhat more than ordinary interest. He is an avowed Eisenhower man in a state which, in politics below the presidential level, has showed strong conservative leanings.

The contest is for the seat of the late Joseph R. McCarthy, who died this spring. McCarthy won election twice in Wisconsin, gaining powerful backing from wealthy industrialists.

Those same elements last year supported former Rep. Glenn Davis in a bid to unseat Sen. Alexander Wiley, but failed. Davis this time was the chief adversary of Kohler, and again enjoyed much conservative support.

Kohler's victory, while relatively narrow, was thus rather notable. Not only did he have to beat Davis, but he faced a wide field of opponents who served to divide the total GOP vote considerably.

Nevertheless, the outcome is obviously not a clear proof that even in conservative Wisconsin President Eisenhower's moderate Republicanism rings a bell. For Kohler as a former governor is popular in his own right, and it is hard to separate the two factors.

'La Cucaracha'

Archy, of Don Marquis' "Archy and Mehitabel," has come into his own. No longer is the lowly cockroach just a lowly cockroach immortalized by an imaginative author.

The pest is being put to scientific use. It is being used in research to develop insecticides to kill other insects as well as itself. Scientists are doing entomological research into the innards of a cockroach much the same as they are using guinea pigs, rabbits, rats and mice in studies of human pathology.

At least twelve species of cockroaches are being maintained as cultures in some laboratories. They are used to evaluate the effectiveness of household sprays.

The Mexican folk song "La Cucaracha" about the insect is not exactly pretty, but is a catching little ditty. Maybe it will be dedicated to a new kind of "guinea pig" in the cause of science.

Southern Whites Suffer Definite Loss

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Negroes and the supporters of civil rights have won a clear-cut victory. Southern whites have suffered a definite defeat.

This is clear after an analysis of the compromise civil rights bill which is expected to be passed by Congress this week.

It's been called a bill to protect Negroes' voting rights. It goes far beyond that. It would have gone further, by letting the attorney general step into all kinds of civil rights cases.

But Southern senators were able to get that part of the bill knocked out. As it stands, the bill would let the attorney general step into voting rights cases only.

That's plenty. So is the rest of the bill. And for the first time in this century, the Southerners were unable to block civil rights legislation.

That may mean more chance for more civil rights legislation in the future.

The bill calls for a commission to investigate all kinds of civil rights violations. The commission would have no powers to act against such violations, as the attorney general could have done under the knocked-out part of the bill. But it could expose.

For example, The commission could investigate the Ku Klux Klan and the White Citizens Councils set up in the South to resist public school integration and integration in general.

The more the commission may reveal—particularly about harassment of Negroes—the more could be the pressure for more legislation. And the commission would have power to hold hearings anywhere in the South.

Because it could issue subpoenas, it could force witnesses to appear and testify.

Under the bill, the attorney general could ask a federal judge for a court order to stop a voting rights violation. Again, there would be exposure. For once a judge issues such an order, he would hold a public hearing to bring out the facts in the case.

And the bill leaves untouched the judge's traditional power to try and jail—without a jury—anyone in civil contempt of courts for disobeying his order.

Action against a person for civil contempt is intended to make him comply while there is still time for him to do so. Criminal contempt action is taken when it is too late to comply and is aimed at punishment for flouting an order.

But a court order can cover a broad field. For example: If a judge ordered a registrar of voters not to interfere with would-be Negro voters, the judge would probably make the order binding on all others too.

Thus, a whole community could be ordered not to interfere. If the registrar complies, but others don't, they could be tried by the judge without a jury for civil contempt.

If it was too late for compliance

NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Graham says that "every teen-ager in New York that went wrong that I've talked to says he was hungry for love."

The evangelist made the statement before a capacity audience of 19,200 at Madison Square Garden last night. He urged parents in the crowd to give their children love, understanding and the example of "a good, honest, clean life."

The program had been billed as "Teen Night," and Graham directed most of his talk to teenagers. There were a substantial number of them in the audience.

Graham said that when the hero Daniel in the Old Testament went to the wicked city of Babylon he did the right things, because his parents had taught him spiritual values. Graham said Daniel's parents "had taught him to pray and to obey God."

Graham said present-day parents, like Daniel's, must lead their children in the right paths to keep them from delinquency. "Most young people," he said, "make life's greatest choices in their teens."

At Graham's call, 567 persons came forward to make "decisions for Christ."

There will be no meeting to-night, in line with Graham's schedule of taking Monday nights off for rest.

The evangelist's New York crusade, which opened May 15, will conclude next Sunday night with an open air meeting at Times Square.

Graham will return to New York Sept. 24 for a ministerial breakfast meeting at which he will report on the crusade. He will return again Oct. 27 for a meeting at the Polo Grounds.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS FROM YOUR STATE CAPITOL

By JACK L. SIMION
Jefferson City Correspondent

Legal Loop Holes Reported As State Retirement Starts
Rumors of some legal loopholes in the new state retirement system are floating around the state capitol.

The new retirement system starts Sept. 1 for all state employees not now covered by a retirement plan. Under the system worked out by the last state legislature, state workers with 20 years service may retire at 60 with the consent of their employers, normal retirement is 65 and mandatory retirement is 70.

Reports have been made of former state workers who have retired on their own savings or on social security being put back on the state payroll so they can also draw state retirement checks. The new retirement law only provides that an employee be on the state payroll on Sept. 1 to qualify. Thus retired workers with 20 or 30 years of service can get credit for their past work by getting back on the state payroll by Sept. 1. After a week's work or maybe only a day, they are qualified to retire without making much contribution to the system.

State Comptroller Newton Atterbury admitted there was legally nothing wrong with retired state employees jumping back on the payroll for an additional week or two just to qualify for the new retirement system. However, Atterbury, secretary of the state employees retirement board, said he thought the practice was "highly unethical."

Atterbury reported that one employee with a number of years of service sought employment at his office recently in hopes of drawing state retirement within a short time. He added that the woman wasn't hired.

"Our actuarial tables didn't take anything like this into consideration," he said.

House Air Conditioning To Start September 1

Air conditioning of the House chamber in the state capitol will start Sept. 1 and must be finished in 90 days, according to Rep. Harry Smith, chairman of the purchasing and supplies committee.

The committee recently awarded a contract to the Air Refrigeration

Corp. of Kansas City for the big job. Smith said the bid was $1,000 for each cooling ton needed, or $175,000 for the entire job which will require a 175-ton refrigeration unit. Smith said there were several bids ranging from $1,000 to $1,101 per cooling ton unit.

The name of the contractor was reported incorrectly by the wire services as the Universal Air Conditioning Co. Smith said the incorrect name was given out by Rep. Milt Overstreet (Democrat-Pettis County) who is vice chairman of the purchasing committee. "I guess he just got a little mixed up," Smith commented.

Smith said the contract calls for the air conditioning to be completed in 90 days. If it is not, the contractor must pay a penalty for each day in excess.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.

The "one-hoss shay" finally fell apart according to the song of many years ago. All material things wear out. For a time we can mend the holes in the garment or repair the broken parts in the machine. The time comes, however, when we can no longer patch the old object because it has so little basic framework left. One cannot effectively patch patches. We must discard the old item and start with a new one.

Even our lives become riddled and frayed with the repetition of human error. We reach the point that our lives must be renewed. This overhaul is too big for mere man to handle. Man does not create new life within himself. God alone can recreate our lives. He does this only when man recognizes his need for getting rid of the old.

When man sees his life falling to pieces and confesses his mistakes, God will give rebirth into His way. Personality changes, love replaces hate, hope replaces fear, faith takes the place of uncertainty. God does not patch us up. He gives new life.

Ruth Millett Says

Teen-ager Has Right To Express Own Opinions

"No matter how I want to do something you always have a better way," I recently heard a teenager say to her mother.

There wasn't anger in her voice — just plain frustration. The mother loves her daughter dearly and wants only the best for her.

But she is making the mistake of so many mothers of teen-age girls. She just doesn't realize that her daughter has reached the age when she wants to be able to do some things her way.

How can a girl learn to make decisions for herself if she doesn't get any practice when she is still growing up?

Mama isn't always going to be around. And even if she were, how sad it would be if a daughter couldn't make a move without asking her mother's advice.

No, a teen-ager's need to express her own ideas shouldn't be ignored by a mother.

Nowadays the pace that kills is any leisurely stroll across a busy highway.

Texas Hat Magnate Predicts Women Will Wear Homburgs

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That the sternest test of whether you have real will power is this: Can you meet a friend with a black eye—and refrain from asking how he got it?

That a giraffe has no more bones in its neck than a sparrow.

That the letter of the word "tip" originally stood for "to insure promptness" but many people today give tips to waiters "to insure protection" against insults.

That more rain falls by night than by day.

That Harry Roilnick, the Texas hat magnate, predicts by the year 2,000 women will be wearing homburgs.

That—here's a nice morsel for people who hate New York—Peter Minuit, who purchased Manhattan from the Indians for $24 and a cask of booze, later was fired by the Dutch for extravagance.

That Americans spend about $750 on personal pleasures for every dollar they give to religious missions.

That hogs are immune to poisonous snakes.

That women get some of their best ideas from men, and the petticoat proves this. The petticoat stems from a type of male waistcoat, or vest, worn by men centuries ago. The girls took off the buttons and anchored it from the waist instead of the shoulders.

That Grace Downs, dean of a school for air hostesses, tells her girls, "One good way to test your memory is to try to remember the things that worried you yesterday."

That the word "symposium," which too often today describes the dry-as-dust exchange of pious platitudes by pontifical pundits, has a noble origin. To the Greeks a symposium was "a drinking-party," usually after a banquet.

That the ice cream cone is now 54 years old.

That in Roman times the day began at sunrise rather than midnight, which may or may not explain why Rome fell.

That it was President U. S. Grant who said, "Labor disgraces no man; unfortunately you occasionally find men disgrace labor."

Dodgers Win Over Cards Despite Rally

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Dodgers wished the Cardinals a 1957 farewell yesterday—and perhaps it was a goodbye forever to play in Brooklyn between the two clubs — by nudging St. Louis, 6-5.

The Cardinals nearly pulled it out in the ninth, an inning the Dodgers once reserved for their game-winning rallies.

When all the managerial strategy was ended, with relief pitchers hastily inserted and outfielders switched to take advantage of a stronger throwing arm, it came down to this:

Bases loaded, Ken Boyer at bat and two runs already in.

But scowling Sam Maglie fanned him on three pitches to preserve a victory for young Don Drysdale, his 13th win in 20 decisions. The 21-year-old righthander has won more games than any other Dodger pitcher.

Starter Sam Jones stayed around until the seventh, when the Bums scooped three for a 6-2 lead.

Gil Hodges' 21st home run in the fifth inning put Brooklyn ahead 3-2.

Two of the Dodgers' runs had a taint to them. In the third inning Don Blasingame fumbled a ground ball with a runner on third. And in the seventh Jones walked Charlie Neal with the bases loaded.

With the Dodgers reportedly headed for Los Angeles next season this may have been the Cardinals' swan song in Ebbets Field, a postage stamp park where they have suffered some humiliating and unbelievable defeats in recent years.

At Kansas City, Woody Held slammed a ninth inning home run to lift the A's over Boston, 3-2. The clutch smash came off of Tom Brewer, who had defeated the A's 14 times in a row.

Moose Softball Team Bows to Cole Camp

The Cole Camp softball team defeated the Moose Club Sunday 10-1 at the Cole Camp diamond. Schultz started for the Moose but was replaced by Coffey in the third, who allowed only two hits after that. But it was too late. The Cole Campers had already scored two runs in the second inning and eight in the third.

The Moose will play Green Ridge tonight at Housel Park, beginning at 8 o'clock. They will play Tipson on Wednesday at the same time and place, and on Sunday they will meet Cole Camp again.

NO IDLE PIPE DREAM

Ken Venturi Wins Tourney At Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP)—For a golfer who maintains money is secondary, boyish looking Ken Venturi of San Francisco is doing all right for himself.

The 26-year-old pro pocketed a $6,000 check yesterday for winning the $35,000 Milwaukee Open Golf Tournament by five strokes with a 13-under-par 267 at the 6,355-yard Tripoli Golf Club.

The victory, his second in a row in tournament play, catapulted him from 30th to 15th place on the PGA's money list with earnings of $14,211 in less than four months.

Venturi turned pro Nov. 28, 1956, but he didn't become eligible for money in PGA sponsored events until May 28. During that six-month probationary period, he won $4,249 in non-PGA sponsored tournaments, plus about $1,000 in pro-am events. In the last nine months his winnings add up to around $20,000.

Not bad for a guy who says, "My main purpose is to see how much I can win tournament wise, not money wise. I figure if I play to win and not for money, the money will take care of itself."

"Venturi carded rounds of 68-66-65-68 in the 72-hole event over the par 35-35-70 course. Last week, he won the St. Paul Open with a 22-under-par 296.

He beat 16 of the top 18 PGA money winners here, including Al Balding, Ontario, Canada and Sam Snead, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., who tied for second place with 272s. They collected $3,500 apiece.

In a tie for fourth place, were Howie Johnson, Houston, Tex.; Bob Rosburg, San Francisco; and Paul Harney, Worcester, Mass. They had 276s for $1,866 each.

Crops Need 15 Types Of Foods

Fall Applications Of Nitrogen Give Strength to Roots

By John Faloon
MU Extension Soils Specialist

Nitrogen is generally added annually to land depending upon the crop to be grown. But it is important to keep in mind that nitrogen is only one of the 15 essential plant food nutrients. While nitrogen is often referred to as the regulator of yields, we must recognize that it can function properly only if all of the other nutrients required for plant growth are adequately supplied.

In the case of fall seeded small grain, nitrogen fertilizer may be applied along with the phosphate and potash at seeding time, part or all of it may be worked into the seedbed before seeding, or part or all of it may be applied as a top dressing any time from seeding until next spring. With new seedings of grasses, nitrogen applications are the same as for fall seeded small grains.

When considering all factors, fall nitrogen applications seem to outweigh waiting until spring. Most farms have livestock and there is spring grazing. If the winter is long and cold with lots of freezing and thawing, the root system is stronger if nitrogen was fall applied. Then often most important, the job is already done. Good intentions of making spring applications sometimes fail to materialize, resulting in no nitrogen applied. It is safer to do it in the fall and be done with it.

The amount of nitrogen needed is about the same for new seedings of grasses and legumes as for small grains. Where grass is seeded alone or top dressing made to existing full stands of grass, the amount should be similar to the amount which would be used for corn on that same land if it were put in corn. This means some 30 to 60 pounds of N per acre on the small grains or new seedings of grass with legumes, and 60 to 120 pounds of N per acre for grass alone. The amount to put on a particular field can be determined by testing the soil.

Fluorescent Lighting Can Be Used to Help Even Egg Distribution

Egg producers can safely use modern fluorescent lighting to stimulate more even distribution of egg production, according to research conducted at the Storrs Agricultural Experiment Station, Connecticut. This research was reported at the Poultry Science Association meeting held last week at the University of Missouri.

At one time scientists were recommending that farmers stick to white incandescent lights which have mostly red and yellow wave lengths. However, this new study shows that layers responded just as well to the blue and green wave lengths given off by fluorescent lamps.

Gas Tax Refunds

A lot of farm folks were interested in Congress allowing the refund of the federal gas tax on gasoline used on the farm. However, many folks did not take advantage of the opportunity when the law was passed a year ago.

The first refund period was Jan. 1 to July 30, 1956. All folks who requested refunds at that time were mailed new blanks this year for the period July 1, 1956, to June 30, 1957.

A small supply of applications were also sent to the extension office for those folks who failed to file a year earlier. That supply has now been used up as well as an additional order of 25 more. A second order is now in the mail.

These claims will be allowed only if filed on or before Sept. 30, 1957. The amounts are two cents per gallon on gasoline purchased before July 1, 1957 and three cents on gasoline purchased since that date. No affidavits or substantiating material needs to go with the applications but it should be available in case questions are raised.

The applications are mailed to the same place as income tax returns. The address is Collector of Internal Revenue, Kansas City 6, Mo.

Livestock Marketing

I had the opportunity to spend four days last week on the Kansas City and St. Joseph livestock markets. The opportunity came through being enrolled in a traveling animal husbandry course from the University of Missouri.

At Kansas City we had the opportunity to grade a number of hogs according to the new classifications of No. 1, No. 2 and No. 3. The next day we went into the packing house cooler to measure carcass length and back fat thickness to check on the grades we had put on the live animals.

We also had the opportunity to learn how the traders operate on the market and to visit several of the traders in the stocker and feeder sections of the market.

Our last stop was going through the new Hereford building at Kansas City. We hoped to go through the Angus Building at St. Joseph but time did not allow.

In St. Joseph we graded both cattle and hogs and then went into the coolers to check them on the racks. The cattle were at Armour's and their head cattle buyer selected and purchased about 35 head to work on.

The animals ranged from cutter cows to prime steers. The class of students really appreciated the effort and expense the packing company put into the program.

As we looked at the beef carcasses, each one was ribbed down and a government grader put an official grade on them. The same grader also gave us some instructions on grading lamb carcasses.

The hogs were over at Swifts. They were selected and graded on foot by a committee of stockyard folks and livestock folks from the University. I believe one of our local men, G. B. Thompson, who is now on the University staff, was on the selecting committee.

The big problem with the present meat type hog is to get individuals that are low in back fat and wasty middles that still have good hams and loins. The packers lean more to the No. 2 hog as more likely to have the carcass they desire than the No. 1.

Most of next week will be spent in livestock judging. After that I will be in the county full time again rather than just on Saturdays.

Seven MU Dietetic Graduates Will Start Year Internship

In the next few weeks, seven of the 1957 University of Missouri home economics graduates will scatter to different parts of the U.S. to begin their dietetic internships in hospitals.

Miss Isabelle Delaney, assistant professor of foods and nutrition at the University, says that just as a doctor takes an internship before he begins to practice, so does the dietitian. This period in their training, she explains, gives them an opportunity to put into practice what they have learned in college.

The graduates, most of whom will begin their internships Sept. 1, are Miss Marjorie Smith from Rutledge; Miss Judith Ann Rissler, Sedalia; Miss Betty Bagnell, Blackburn; Miss Nancy Austene, Hallsville; Miss Betty D. Peterson, Kansas City, Mo.; Miss Barbara Cook, St. Clair, and Mrs. Mona Gowan, Columbia.

Miss Delaney says that at completion of one year's training these girls will be entitled to membership in the official organization of their profession, the American Dietetic Association. This is a positive identification that they have met the qualifications of high-standard training.

She notes that there are three

Missouri University State Swine Day Will Feature Meat Type Hog

Production of a meat-type hog is the idea behind the program for the University of Missouri's State Swine Day to be held Sept. 6.

The program has been set up to start at 9:30 a.m. It will be held at the Livestock Pavilion on the University campus and everyone interested in swine production is cordially invited to attend.

John Lasley, University professor of animal husbandry, says the morning program has been arranged to describe a meat-type hog, where and how to get meat-type breeding stock and reasons for producing a meaty hog.

For the afternoon, a portion of the program has been turned over to Ralph Ricketts, extension agricultural engineer, who will talk about equipment needed in swine production.

Final item on the program will be a review of recent University swine experiments and their results.
